

- 23 -

A B S T R A C T

A wearing article absorption of body fluids has an inner sheet, an outer sheet and a body fluid absorbent first panel
5 underlying the inner sheet. The inner sheet and the first panel are formed in central regions thereof with a void to be filled with a hydrophobic second panel which is elastically compressible and liquid-pervious. A plurality of narrow strips, each comprising water-absorbent fibers compressed to 10 a high density, and a hydrophobic and liquid-pervious spacer member underlying the narrow strips are interposed between the second panel and the outer sheet.